Homeroom 105 - Ms. Davidovich, Mr. Martin, Mrs. Matta

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, congratulations on an incredibly successful 7th grade year! This was a year full of many accomplishments for you - from your work in your Robotics team outside of school and your service to the community, to practicing public speaking in school and getting your poems published! Your natural, inquisitive nature and love of learning will serve you well in life. Additionally, your wide array of passions (from STEAM to art to debate, theater and literature to tennis and band) will open many doors for your future. In your end of year reflection, you described yourself as “kind, honest and determined” and I couldn't agree more. For all of your tremendous academic achievements, it is your outstanding character that will continue to distinguish you. You are an excellent collaborator, reflective listener, and true friend to all. I hope you continue to take pride in these traits. You enjoyed spending time with your friends this year on the Sourlands Hiking Trip, but you also expanded your social circle and made new friends, especially by welcoming new students to PDS this year. You expressed that a challenge you faced this year came when you received your first semester interim report card, as your grades weren’t quite up to your standards due to your busy schedule outside of school. As the year progressed, however, you established a more consistent schedule for yourself, used your Resource time wisely, and committed to submitting all of your assignments to the best of your ability. As you continue to get older and prepare for high school, finding this balance of your time will be crucial. Your efforts and progress this year were inspiring to witness. I especially am proud of how you never backed down from a challenge. For example, you noted that being in the advanced band motivated you to work harder and improve your musicianship this year. Overall, you should be incredibly proud of your efforts this year. I look forward to seeing all you continue to accomplish in 8th grade next year, and I am especially excited to work together on the Fall Play! Have a wonderful summer! - Mr. Martin

English 7 - Ms. Scanlan

Grade: A+

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, you have soared in English class this year! You continue to excel as a reader, remembering important information and identifying key moments in the text. Your analytical writing (e.g. signpost reflections, analytical essays) demonstrates your growing critical thinking abilities as well. In addition to addressing the "so what" questions more consistently, you create argumentative topic sentences, and you thoroughly explain how the textual evidence you select supports your claim. I suspect you have made these strides in your writing because you often seek out — and then apply — feedback from your classmates and me. Beyond your analytical writing, your creative writing has continued to flourish, as evidenced by your original poem and short story ideas. Across your writing, you have eliminated most mechanical errors. Occasionally, you have a few punctuation or formatting mistakes, so continue to keep proofreading closely before submitting your work. You have become more confident speaking in class, and I encourage you to continue sharing your ideas aloud with the rest of the group. Overall, Aadya, you are a talented writer and a friendly member of our English class. I look forward to supporting your growth further in these final months of the year!

History 7 - Mr. Haber

Grade: A+

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, you continue to be a model student in history class. You demonstrate an excellent comprehension of nonfiction texts and primary sources as you take notes on important and relevant information. Your writing is clear and well-organized, and you support your claims with substantial and relevant information. Your Bill of Rights project demonstrated careful attention to detail throughout the creation and editing processes. You collaborate respectfully and effectively with your classmates, often taking on a leadership role. You also do an excellent job of listening to others respectfully and responding to their questions and claims in a way that moves our conversations forward. You frequently go above and beyond the class expectations in regards to the quality of your work, care, and support for others. You are an important member of our community, and I look forward to working with you the rest of the year. Keep up the great work!

French 3 - Mr. Marcuard

Grade: A

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, I am glad to have no significant changes to report since January. You continue to work extremely efficiently outside of the classroom, make an excellent contribution to activities and discussions (though I still wish you took more initiative speaking up in class), and your graded work consistently reflects care as well as a solid command of the language. On occasion, as in the recent grammar quiz, you make small mechanical errors which seem avoidable, notably with gender or number agreement. Before submitting your work, I suggest you scan the page stopping at every noun, confirm its gender and number, and check on both sides to verify that determiner and adjective(s) all agree. Congratulations on finishing the entire movie Le Père Noël; I hope you will also enjoy our next one, Adèle Blanc-Sec.
Keep up the good work to conclude this excellent year of French «en fanfare» !

Honors Algebra IA - Ms. Davidovich, Mrs. Matta

Grade: A+

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, I want you to congratulate yourself on your impressive progress in math this semester. Your methodical problem-solving approach is evident in your consistent success on CML and all math assessments. Your commendable proficiency shone through in slope and linear equation-solving techniques. Your solid foundation in mathematical concepts will undoubtedly prepare you for future math courses.

As you move forward, please maintain the momentum and further strengthen the solid foundation of concepts and learning strategies that you have built. Your critical thinking skills, which have been instrumental in your success, combined with your algebra skills, will empower you to take more intellectual risks and play a pivotal role in your ongoing development of problem-solving skills. These skills will be invaluable as you tackle more complex mathematical concepts in the future. To further cultivate your outstanding achievements, seek opportunities to delve into advanced mathematical challenges that ignite your intellectual curiosity.
As you delve deeper into math, you'll appreciate its vastness and beauty, with numerous intriguing areas waiting to be explored. Your growth potential is genuinely inspiring, Aadya. I look forward to seeing you continue to excel in this field!

Science 7 - Mrs. Treese

Grade: A

Teacher's comments:
Aadya you have continued to be a thoughtful and conscientious worker. You collaborate well, and it is clear that you have made a concerted effort this term to answer analysis questions with evidence and example. You have remained focused in class, and your contributions to our discussions show your engagement with the material. Your answers are consistently clear and concise with explanation and reasoning, and I rarely have to tell you that an assignment is late or missing. You have continued to improve in your inclusion of details and supporting evidence in the thinking questions on labs. You are becoming adept at including the data and details I am looking for in a thorough answer. On the Earth Change Cross Section Project, you did a really nice job explaining how the geology of earthquakes has affected the ecology of the Aleutian Islands. You had great poise and explained your material with ease in front of your peers. Excellent job! The rest of the term we will be studying weather, climate, and how it affects us. I think you will enjoy these topics as they are very relevant to our lives. Keep up the good work!

Science 7 - Mrs. Treese

Grade: A

General	MS Semester 1
Arrives for class on time and prepared with necessary materials (Habits of a Learner)	Consistently
Uses classwork and homework to build and reinforce learning (Habits of a Learner)	Consistently
Seeks help when necessary to modify learning strategies (Habits of a Learner)	Consistently
Incorporates feedback to track progress of learning and improve understanding (Persistence and Resilience)	Consistently
Exhibits focus, effective listening skills, and consideration for others in class (Socially and Emotionally Responsible)	Consistently
Contributes positively and collaborates effectively to promote or improve learning (Collaboration)	Consistently

Science Skills	MS Semester 1
Builds upon prior knowledge to analyze collected data, evaluate its quality and draw conclusions from the empirical evidence	Consistently
Asks relevant inquiry questions and effectively carries out scientific investigations to collect relevant data in an effort to answer those questions	Consistently

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, your engagement and interest in science shines through in every class. You have thoughtful questions and your curiosity is palpable. Whether it is a question about other universes or a clarifying question about convection currents within the mantle, you clearly think about science and our content. As a member of a group, you work well with everyone, you are a leader but are also willing to follow if others have good ideas as well. I have been impressed with your ability to help others who might be having trouble with the information while also letting them feel like they are contributing to the conversation and project. I am able to put you in a group with anyone and you will make sure that your project or lab assignment is completed well without too many distractions. You ask questions when you are confused and are not afraid to ask when you need help. Homework and classwork is always completed thoroughly with good detail. On your nightly homework or in class investigations, you are detailed and use data as evidence to support your claims. Your answers show a strong foundation in using evidence based reasoning to further your argument. You have shown progress in this skill throughout the semester and I anticipate that you will continue to improve with practice. Your work on the YouTube video about the Big Bang and the creation of the Universe was well researched and included a great deal of video editing skills. It was clear that you spent a great deal of effort not only on the content but also making sure that your video was easy to understand. I anticipate using this video for future classes as an exemplar! I look forward to working with you in the coming term and I know that you will continue to show the same interest and enthusiasm as we discover Plate Tectonic Theory as well as Oceanography and Weather. Keep up the great work!

History 7 - Mr. Haber

Grade: A+

General	MS Semester 1
Exhibits focus, effective listening skills, and consideration for others in class (Socially and Emotionally Responsible)	Consistently
Contributes positively and collaborates effectively to promote or improve learning (Collaboration)	Consistently

Teacher's comments:
Aadya, you are a thoughtful, motivated, and all-around exceptional student. You always complete and submit quality work on time that meets or exceeds expectations. You have demonstrated that you listen carefully to peer and teacher feedback by consistently applying the advice to your work. Your writing is clear and organized, and your ideas are communicated effectively. You provide ample evidence and explanation to support your arguments. You conduct research effectively, finding appropriate resources for your topic of inquiry and identifying relevant important information. You are able to synthesize your notes by theme and explain them in order to share your findings. You adeptly analyze new information and make connections to your prior knowledge. This allows you to make insightful comments, enhancing your own and your classmates' understanding. You work effectively with others; you communicate clearly and respectfully, manage conflict, and limit distractions. You also went above and beyond in helping your partners prepare for the class debate. I commend you for your determination and motivation, but keep in mind that ultimately your classmates are responsible for their portion of the work. Don't wear yourself too thin. You are a skilled and poised speaker, commanding respect from your audience and peers. It is my pleasure having you in class. Keep up the good work!
